

Chattahoochee Valley Libraries uses social media to share useful information about CVL programs and services, and to engage with the community. These tools help create awareness of the wide range of library resources and activities.

The comments and opinions expressed on CVL's social media accounts are the opinion of the person posting and may not reflect the official position of Chattahoochee Valley Libraries or the opinions of its employees.

CVL monitors its social media and reserves the right to moderate, edit, delete, move, restrict, close, or remove any content that is deemed inappropriate.

Everything posted to our social media accounts is part of the public record and subject to public disclosure. By posting any comments, posts or other materials on Chattahoochee Valley Libraries' social media pages, you give us permission to reproduce, distribute, publish, display, edit, modify, delete and otherwise use your submissions for any library-related purpose in any form on any media.

We reserve the right to remove content and/or block you from the page if your posts are deemed inappropriate due to the following:

- Profane, obscene, or injurious language or content
- Content that degrades or discriminates against others
- Threatening or harassing postings
- False information that causes harm to an individual or organization
- Content that reveals private, personal information without permission
- Conduct or encouragement of illegal activity
- Information that may tend to compromise the safety or security of the public or public systems
- Solicitations for commerce or fundraising
- Support for or opposition to political campaigns or ballot measures
- Any activity prohibited by law not otherwise mentioned above
